HERITAGE ANALYSIS

HISTORY:	"Probably built by Daniel Joubert, who added the main gable to Vredelust (see history of 02.04B)."
