SITE DESCRIPTION

Single-storey corrugated-iron pitched-roof house with central gable with pilasters and attic window. Roof raised and then lowered again, currently corrugated iron. Teak windows and Georgian fanlight. Victorian stoep on concrete pillars, stoepkamer, balustrade and steps and other added elements. Barn in line with house. Closely adjacent to Welgevonden.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This is a layered site, with a Cape Dutch core, and a clear series of alterations and additions that are "legible" as being of various eras. Although modest, this site has a strong association with the various eras of occupation of the Stellenbosch Winelands. It has architectural and contextual significance.
